The university received reaccreditation through 2014 from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS). The university has increased its fund raising by $250,000 and is a partner in a Homeland Security Grant. Web portals will be enhanced to support development efforts among other initiatives. Executive Committee

President Thome reported on the meeting with the president concerning external peer review. The senators shared with him that they didn’t understand how it would improve either the tenure process or the university as a whole. They discussed the possibility of forming a committee to determine other ways to qualify a candidate for tenure. The executive committee extended an invitation to the president to come and speak of that issue, but, he hasn’t had the opportunity.

President Thome gave a report on the first meeting of the Strategic Planning Council (SPC) on January 10. The council heard an overview of its charge and then divided into two sub-committees. As the Faculty Senate representative, he serves on the Goals and Assessment Sub-Committee as a co-chair with Dr. Gerry Muuka. The committee’s first order of business was to design and implement an awareness campaign. This university-wide assessment is not to be confused with assessment of learning in the majors by the departments. Thirty-two goals were identified during the SACS reaffirmation process. The university is divided into five planning units; academic affairs, student affairs, institutional advancement, finance and administrative services, and the president’s office.

The committee met on January 18 to select and rank three goals for each planning unit for the 2005-06 fiscal year. Each unit will select two additional goals for a total of five each year and develop action steps to measure the progress on each of those goals. The sub-committee on the Quality Enhancement Plan and Assessment will develop a plan for university units to assess the Characteristics of the MSU Graduate. Characteristic #7, Understand the importance of and engage in ethical behavior and responsible citizenship, will be assessed during the 2005-06 year. Each year a different characteristic will be assessed by the university. The council’s executive committee (president, vice presidents, and council chair) selected those for the first five years. The committee will select the remaining five. Dr. Thome will discuss the proposal to add the SPC as a standing committee with Dr. Sandra Jordan, council chair.

President Thome introduced a resolution brought to the senate by the senate’s executive committee on free choice in public education. Faculty expressed views of support and non-support of the resolution. After considerable debate an amended motion was defeated.

REPORTS

Board of Regents – Regent Strieter reported that the Faculty Development Council met on September 8 and approved grants for the 2005-06 academic year. Two larger grants of $4,000 each in addition to other ones for $500 will be offered this year.

The Salary Equity Committee, which he chairs, met on September 12, 30, and October 3. Human Resources has forwarded information for the committee to review. He also encouraged faculty involvement in international programs and teaching forums offered by CTLT.

Dr. Strieter participated in the Governor’s Conference on Trusteeship September 18-19 and heard reports on the state budget.

On September 23 the board heard an enrollment report from the president. Overall, enrollment is up with international and graduate in decline. The administration will review graduate program stipends and departmental tuition waivers. The university enrolled 17/33 students through Kentucky’s Whitney Young scholarships for African-Americans. This percentage was better than the other institutions and national rankings remain high.

Many renovations of campus facilities have been approved. The renovation of Waterfield Library will begin in the spring. Health care costs have declined in part by preventive benefits; employee premiums have been adjusted accordingly.
Ninety-four of the students who participated in last summer’s Commonwealth Honors Academy enrolled this fall (64 ½%). Regent Strieter commended the staff for their continued accomplishment.

The board will hear a report on liability coverage for employees at its December 2 meeting.

President King Alexander further explained the renovations and expanded discussion into funding by the state of capital projects. The university’s master plan is being redefined. The administration will work with the board to identify the most suitable use of available space on campus.

President’s Report

The president further mentioned declining graduate enrollment. He will work with the Provost’s Office and the programs to identify ways to enhance recruitment efforts.

He noted strong recruiting of talented students from Jefferson County; an indication of our growing reputation among those students. Senator Navan noted competition from “fast track” programs in the area leading to losses at Henderson and Madisonville. Dr. Alexander explained this national trend.

Dr. Alexander then spoke of the changing environment of KTRS and optional retirement systems. Information was also shared with the Faculty and Staff Insurance and Benefits Committee earlier in the day. Joyce Gordon, human resources, shared statistical and background data. ORPs were allowed initially upon faculty request and were legislatively authorized. Efforts are being made at the presidential and human resource levels across the state to deal with the growing inequity of contributions. Sixty percent of our personnel remain under KTRS along with the public school systems. Both KTRS and ORPs provide advantages and limitations. Joyce will get further information to the senate’s finance committee. Human resources staff work with each new hire one on one to explain the complexities of the choice. The nine month contract provides additional time for new hires to select a retirement plan. ORPs allow for a one-time switch to KTRS. Ten MSU employees have taken advantage of that. The insurance and benefits committee will also continue to study and work on this issue. ORPs remain as a significant recruitment tool, and the university wants to carefully plan for various options and is collecting data that will be shared with the Faculty Senate, Staff Congress, and the FS Insurance and Benefits Committee.

Academic Policies – Chair Koren reported that the committee is investigating +/- grading systems and Institutional Review Board policies. Committee members are working on an institutional survey of preferred grading systems.

Governmental Affairs – Chair Munke announced that the next COSFL meeting will be on October 22 in Lexington. Tom Layzell, CPE President, is on the agenda. Western’s Faculty Senate has tabled a motion on the ORP situation. There was no support from the other four institutions affected to join in litigation.

Handbook and Personnel – Chair McCreary reported that the committee did not have a quorum on September 22 but informally discussed three items – the ORP situation, circulation of grievance procedures to faculty, and reinstatement of the Faculty Handbook on faculty contracts. The committee’s next meeting is scheduled for October 20 at 2 p.m. in BL306.

REPORTS

President – President Alexander thanked the faculty for working together so well with his administration over the past three-four years. The university has continued to move forward with substantial budget cuts. The institution continues to attract faculty and new students due in part to the work of this faculty. One of the first things he remembers doing when arriving on campus was to speak to the Faculty Senate and now it is one of his last. He thanked Dr. Mark Wattier for his objectivity as faculty representative to CPE. He noted issues to watch as they are discussed in the legislature and CPE; trust fund pools for retention of first generation students, and affordability – noting the university protection of keeping tuition low for our students. He urged the senate to continue to work together with the administration to recognize the true value of MSU, which he believes to be unique, as issues continue to be raised during the coming months of the legislative session. Dr. Alexander cited great students with a strong quality of life. He believes the Board will identify and bring in a strong pool of candidates for his position. He asked that the faculty continue to work together with the new president in the future.

Dr. Alexander supports the proposed peer review policy as last presented to him. He believes that it will lead to academic improvement in fully qualifying research activity. Many institutions have addressed the role of research to strengthen the tenure process. The findings and recommendations of the Salary Equity Committee are important to the future, but, will present challenges and affect changes to fiscal allocations. Changes in the market place have been made to address disciplines that have social benefit and value for our society. This institution’s care of students has led to a commitment to infuse in students a degree of caring into his new role. Our graduation rates demonstrate a commitment of resources to students. He thanked the senate again for all of its support and acknowledged the support of his family in the community.
President Thome thanked the president for his interest in keeping the faculty informed and for routinely reporting at senate meetings.

Board of Regents - Regent Strieter noted that a preliminary salary report has been given to the president that will bring attention to issues on campus that have developed over many years. The president attended the last meeting.

Regent Strieter reported that he and President Thome attended the first meeting of the University Studies Commission. He has also attended the opening of the Kentucky World Trade Center on campus and international education week events; noting the outstanding contribution of and participation by faculty. Regent Strieter has been appointed to the board of the Faculty Club.

The Board of Regents met on December 2 and approved several routine items; leaves of absence, applicants for graduation, audits, etc. The board reappointed Crystal Coleman and appointed Joyce Shatzer, faculty representatives to the University Student Appeals Board. The Board also contracted with Korn-Ferry Consultants for the presidential search. Regent Strieter shared two resolutions approved by the Senate’s Executive Committee with members of the board. Tuition will be set at the February 24 BOR meeting. President Alexander added that the administration will begin discussion of next year’s tuition tomorrow. The board continues to discuss liability coverage of employees.

Regent Strieter noted that the salary equity committee’s recommendations now number twelve and that he hopes that some will be carried out. President Alexander noted that issues have surfaced over periods of time not only here but at other universities. He believes the committee has offered good data to make decisions.

The president reported that increases to graduate assistant stipends and waivers will be phased in to make the university more competitive in recruiting graduate students. The university has reviewed policies at other institutions and will make recommendations in the spring.

Academic Policies – Chair Koren reported that the committee continues to study plus/minus grading systems and is developing a faculty survey. The president noted that administrative concerns can be overcome and that he believes such a system offers faculty more validity in grading. The president stated that other institutions use plus/minuses and he sees no reason why we can’t incorporate them into our system.

The committee met with the chair and administrative staff member of the Institutional Review Board (IRB) in order to gain insight of policies and procedures. More information is needed before a report to the senate, and the committee will continue to discuss its report in January.

Vice President Navan asked the president if the peer review policy will be brought back to the faculty. A policy was drafted by the academic policies committee and forwarded for consideration by the administration. The president responded that the latest draft was very strong and that he is supportive of it acknowledging the amount of effort having gone into it. The proposal will be forwarded to the Faculty Senate for discussion in January.

Finance  – Chair Rose reported that the committee met on November 8 and was visited by a departmental chair with concerns of frequent secretarial turnover. The committee will talk with the Staff Congress President. Senator Porter reported current employee categories from Human Resources: 439 faculty, 323 professional staff, and 621 hourly staff. The committee will review data for the last 5 years to discern trends.

The committee will acquire the recently approved university audits and begin perusal of them. The committee will discuss a possible meeting with the Athletic Director in the spring.

Governmental Affairs  – Chair Munke reported that COSFL will meet this Saturday (December 11) and that faculty can join the meeting via ITV from the Business Building 9-11 a.m. The agenda includes KTRS retirement financing and a joint conference with AAUP on April 10. The university presidents have discussed and the only remedy seems to be legislative opportunity of capping ORP minimum and maximum which decreases flexibility of the plans.

Handbook and Personnel  – Chair McCreary reported that the committee met November 17 with the following agenda items: Reinstatement of the reference to the Faculty Handbook on faculty contracts and a policy on romantic/sexual student-faculty relationships. The committee tabled the first item and will prepare a new sub-section of 2.9 of the Handbook, Rights and Responsibilities of Faculty with a new policy on student/faculty relationships; Dr. Alexander noted inconsistencies currently across campus that limit the ability of the university and departments to respond.

Rules, Elections, and Bylaws  – Vice President Navan reported that the committee met on November 29 and continued discussion on the membership procedures of the University Studies Committee. The committee recommends clarification of the procedures and refers this item to the Handbook Committee for further discussion and wording. The committee forwarded the guidelines and timeline for the 2006 Board of Regents Teaching Excellence Awards for senate approval.

Executive  – President Thome reported that the salary equity committee has met four times. He will attend the December 2 board meeting. The senate has been responsible for appointments to the Faculty Club board. It has become increasingly difficult to find faculty willing to serve on the board. President Thome has appointed Regent Strieter and has asked the chairs of the three departments that utilize the facility the most for an appointee. Two of the current members will remain through May. Terms will be staggered, and they have been asked to come up with ways to increase individual and departmental activity in the club.
The executive committee met last Tuesday and discussed two resolutions. The two resolutions passed with some modification and are attached as addendum to these minutes.

Academic Council – The Undergraduate Studies Committee passed several items on first or second readings. Vice President Navan encouraged Faculty Senate support of the board during this process and also encouraged colleges to participate in shared governance at every opportunity.

The senate adjourned at 4:45 p.m.
