Carmen Garland, Special Assistant to the Vice President for Student Affairs, wished everyone a safe spring break.

WKMS is beginning its fundraising. The phone fundraising efforts have gone well. The on-air campaign begins March 28.

The branding consultant group was on campus and was impressed with university community. The consultant team members noted that they have never been to a university with such a unified message of family, one-on-one attention, and personal touch.

Mr. Carter congratulated the Way to Go Award winners.

Tom Hoffacker, Director of Human Resources, asked for a show of hands from those who attended the health screening fair. He said it is important for all employees to provide input regarding the wellness and insurance plans, as well as the flexible spending plan, by communicating with him, the Insurance and Benefits Committee, or his office.

Regarding ING and MSU benefits, Mr. Hoffacker’s office has been assured that the 403B supplemental plan is fine. Human Resources will update the online document that lists 403B vendors. The Personnel Matters newsletter has been distributed. He noted that the version which was distributed was his draft, which somehow didn’t go to the graphics department. The next newsletter will have a different look.
