If you have experienced Sexual Violence, Relationship Violence, or Stalking

IMMEDIATE STEPS

Go to a safe place. Seek out a friend, your RA’s room, or any open office on campus.

Call someone you trust. A friend, family member, or victim advocate are good resources. You do not have to go through this alone.

Preserve evidence. After sexual violence, do not shower until you have considered whether to have a no-cost forensic sexual assault examination at the hospital, and save the clothes you were wearing (unwashed) in a paper or cloth bag. After sexual violence, relationship violence, and/or stalking, take photos of any damage or injury and keep communication records.

WITHIN 24 HOURS

Confidential support. You may want to turn to a confidential advocate or counselor for support and advice. They will talk with you about your options for additional support services and reporting.

Get medical attention. After unwanted physical contact, get medical attention. A medical provider can check for and treat physical injury, sexually transmitted infections, and pregnancy. You do not need to make a formal report or press charges to receive medical care.

AT ANY TIME

Make a formal report. You are encouraged to report it happened to both the police and the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Institutional Diversity, Equity and Access (IDEA). You can decide how much you would like to participate in any investigation process.

MSU can help. The Title IX Coordinator can help you with changes to your housing, classes, work, and more. You do not need to make a formal report or press charges to receive help from MSU.

MSU’s Commitment to a Safe and Supportive Community

MSU is committed to creating and maintaining a campus environment free from all forms of sexual violence, relationship violence, and stalking. The university takes all reports seriously.

You are not alone. You do not have to make a formal report or press charges to receive medical and academic support. The resources listed in this brochure can help.

Employee Reporting

The University cares about its Racer Community and supporting victim survivors and protecting community safety is a part of keeping the Racer Community healthy. Therefore, under MSU’s Sexual Assault Response Policy, members of the University community who witness or receive a report of sexual assault must report the incident to the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Institutional Diversity, Equity and Access. Exceptions include employees who are empowered by law to maintain confidentiality, such as those in Counseling and the Women’s Center.

Under the federal Clery Act, members of the University community also have a duty under federal law to report crimes to the MSU Police Department. Their report to police will be statistical in nature to include the date, time, and place of the incident, but not the identity of the victim-survivor.

TERMS TO KNOW

What is Sexual Violence?

Sexual violence, which includes rape, refers to any sexual act directed against another person, without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent. Examples include: Sexual touching and penetration, regardless of how slight without consent. Sexual violence can happen to anyone, regardless of gender.

What is Consent?

Consent is informed, freely given and mutually agreed-upon sexual activity. It is the responsibility of the person to initiate behavior to ensure clear and affirmative responses at each stage of sexual involvement.

What is Relationship Violence?

Relationship violence includes dating and domestic violence and is a pattern of behavior in an intimate relationship used to establish power and control over another person through fear and intimidation. Relationship violence can be verbal, emotional, and/or physical. Examples include: slapping, pulling hair, name calling, damaging property, and threats of abuse or physical harm.

What is Stalking?

To stalk someone means to engage in an intentional course of conduct (behavior) that is directed at a specific person(s) which seriously alarms, annoys, intimidates or harasses the person(s) and serves no legitimate purpose. Examples include: non-consensual email communications (in person, text, phone, social media, email), surveillance, or showing up at the targeted person’s classroom or workplace.

What is Sexually Exploitative Behavior?

Occurs when a person takes non-consensual or abusive sexual advantage of another for anyone’s advantage or benefit other than the person being exploited. Examples include: video/audio-taping or photographing of sexual activity, or pasting or distributing of materials involving the sexual activity of another person via the internet or other media, exposing one’s genitalia, inducing incapacitation for the purpose of engaging in sexual conduct, or observing without consent a person who is naked, in the process of undressing, or engaging in sexual acts.

Please note that the full definitions for these terms are contained within Murray State University’s Policy prohibiting Sexual Violence and Misconduct.
