Much like any interview, you should 1) research the organization and role; 2) assess how your skills, personality, values, etc are a fit; 3) show up on-time (5-15 min prior); and 4) follow-up with a thank you note or email.

- Be yourself and be enthusiastic...but fake shines through.
- If panel, let them extend hands first or skip shaking hands.
- Let the panel tell you when to sit down.
- Organize your thoughts before you speak; know what you want to tell about yourself.

- Keep hands in your lap unless making a gesture.
- Don't watch clock, check your phone or glance at watch.
- Don't assume you know the question being asked, listen.
- Maintain natural eye contact; address answers to each person on the panel, not just to the person who asked the question.
- Don't be afraid to pause a few seconds before answering; gather your thoughts.
- If you don't understand the question, ask for clarification.
- If you don't know the answer to a question, say, "I'm sorry, I don't know. Can we come back to that question?"
- Avoid nervous habits/fillers: um, like, you know, etc.
- Don't exaggerate your accomplishments.
