Resident Tuition Discount

Students from Massac County in Illinois; or Posey, Vanderburgh or Warrick Counties in Indiana; or Montgomery County in Tennessee were assessed out-of-state tuition. A tuition discount was credited for the difference between Murray State University's out-of-state tuition and in-state tuition. (Note: This resulted in the student paying the same as in-state tuition.)

- Residents of the counties listed above were treated as in-state students in relation to housing and dining policies

Regional Tuition Discount

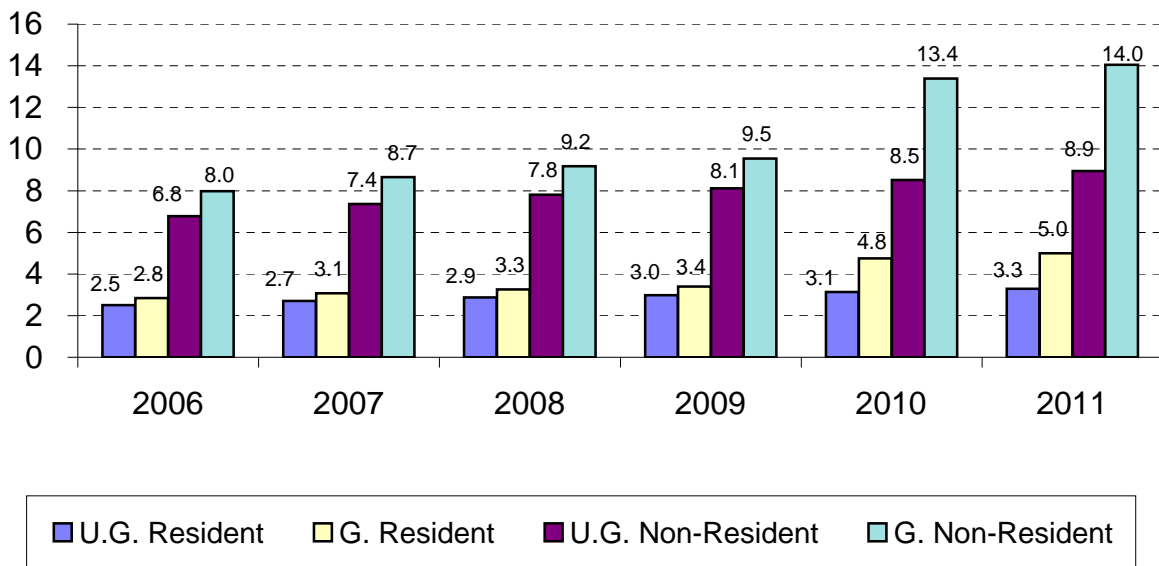

Students from Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Tennessee admitted starting Summer 2001, from Ohio admitted starting Fall 2010, and from Alabama admitted starting Fall 2011 were assessed out-of-state tuition. A tuition discount was credited for the difference between Murray State University's out-of-state tuition and an average in-state rate, based on colleges from the student's state of residency on record with Admissions Services.

- In order to receive the Regional Tuition Discount, undergraduate students were required to be eligible for admission, enroll full-time and pay for university housing. Seniors were not required to live in university housing. Graduate students were not required to meet these requirements to receive the discount.
- Summer Regional Tuition Rates for graduate and undergraduate students were based on their state's respective institutional rates.

The Healthy People 2010 initiative (U.S. Department of Health and Human Services) has charged colleges and universities with the responsibility of providing health promotion and disease prevention strategies. The staff at Murray State University Health Services is here to enhance the educational process, to promote an optimal level of wellness, to enable the campus community members to make informed decisions about health related concerns, and to empower individuals to be self-directed and well informed consumers of health care services. In 2011, there were 7,669 visits to Health Services and there were 6,191 laboratory tests performed. The laboratory is certified by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Health Care Financing Administration. The professional staff presented various programs reaching over 2,000 individuals promoting wellness and emphasizing healthy lifestyle choices. The professional nurses are certified in College Health by the American Nurses Credentialing Center.

Each staff member has special talents that are used to benefit the Murray State University community. All are sensitive to the needs of the diverse college population. The professional staff strives to provide a caring environment that fosters personal growth, individual freedom, and academic achievement.

Educational Outreach Programs include:

- Newspaper and television interviews on college health issues

- Presentations to students in First Year Orientation classes, Summer Orientation, residential colleges, fraternities, sororities, International Student Organization, residential directors and advisors and other groups.
- Great Beginnings

The presentation of full-time faculty in the following pages utilizes (unless otherwise noted) the reporting guidelines specified by American Association of University Professors (AAUP). Information sent to AAUP is based on faculty members employed as of November 1 of the indicated year. The instructional faculty is defined as “all those members of the Instruction/Research staff who are employed full-time and whose major (at least 50%) regular assignment is instruction (including released time for research) regardless of whether they are formally designated ‘faculty.’” The guidelines also state that “Department heads with faculty rank (but no other administrative title) should be reported at their instructional salary....” In each table, only those faculty members who meet the above specified criteria are reported.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

The Murray State University Libraries serve as the intellectual commons of the university. By providing traditional and evolving services, resources and information literacy instruction in a space conducive to diverse learning needs, we prepare the university community to effectively navigate and apply a world of information, media and technology.

The University Libraries fulfill this mission through:

- Providing instruction in information, media and technological literacy skills using appropriate instruction methods and tools to teach the university community how to find, assess and use information;
- Supporting the curricular and research needs of the university community through continually acquiring, maintaining, preserving and managing access to quality materials in varying formats, as determined by effective collection assessment;
- Adapting physical and virtual spaces to the changing technological and learning needs of the university community through maintaining, and planning for new, responsive learning environments.

Measurement of instruction is operationalized using numbers of instruction sessions taught and research interactions completed.

In order to provide responsive learning environments, Waterfield Library (the main library) provides three different sound zones to meet the needs of the university community. There is the Green Zone which allows for conversation and group study. The Yellow Zone requires that conversation be in hushed tones and that cell phones be set to vibrate while the Red Zone protects a visitor's need for quiet study by discouraging conversation. As part of the Learning Commons philosophy, Waterfield also incorporates several student-oriented services within the building itself. The Racer Writing Center and the Racer Oral Communication Center offer assistance with both individual appointments and group workshops. Two classrooms are available for instruction from both the library faculty and faculty from around campus. Copy Express offers many printing services and Starbucks coffee shop provides drinks and snacks for visitors to purchase.

MURRAY STATE UNIVERSITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Murray State University Alumni Association was organized June 1, 1926, to provide an opportunity for graduates, former students, faculty, staff, and members of the governing board of the institution to coordinate their efforts on behalf of the University. A long held dream of the Alumni Association was realized in 2002 with the completion of the Sid Easley Alumni Center, located adjacent to Roy Stewart Stadium at the north entrance of the Murray State University campus. The facility serves as a central location for alumni to gather for meetings, receptions and other events when returning to their alma mater.

The Alumni Association serves the University by (a) awarding student scholarships; (b) recognizing outstanding faculty through Distinguished Professor, Distinguished Researcher and Emerging Scholar Awards; (c) recognizing outstanding alumni through Distinguished Alumnus Awards; (d) providing social, athletic and academic opportunities for alumni; (e) providing leadership and support for alumni chapters and other groups across the country; and (f) serving as a liaison between the University and its alumni constituency.

The Alumni Association established a scholarship program in 1941, awarding one scholarship in the amount of $100. The association now oversees 99 scholarships that provide awards of various amounts to nearly 200 deserving students each year.

Alumni programs and services are overseen by a board of governors. Specific projects and programs such as the annual Homecoming and Alumni Reunion Weekend activities are carried out by the board with the assistance of other alumni volunteers and the Offices of Alumni Affairs and Development.

The Alumni Association has 11 chapters in Kentucky, with 6 chapters outside the state. Services offered by the Alumni Association are an affinity credit card program of which proceeds support scholarships and alumni programming; group life and health insurance plans; a e-newsletter that includes timely information about on- and off-campus alumni events; a brick program offering personalized bricks that are permanently placed in the patio area at the alumni center; and an on-line community that helps alumni re-connect with former classmates.

The Legacy Tuition Grant program is an alumni based student recruiting project coordinated with the Office of Recruitment where out-of-state undergraduate children and grandchildren are encouraged to attend Murray State. This program is promoted by the Office of Alumni Affairs (800-758-8510).

MURRAY STATE UNIVERSITY FOUNDATION 2011-2012

The Murray State University Foundation was established in 1946 to “do and perform all things necessary for the development, growth, expansion, progress, the accomplishment of educational objectives, the development of the physical plant, the improvement of the faculty, and aid to the student body and alumni of Murray State University.” A Kentucky non-profit 501(C)(3) corporation that is separate and not affiliated with the university, the MSU Foundation serves as the umbrella organization for accepting, acknowledging, and administering private support to the University.

The business policies, procedures, and goals of the Foundation are established by a 30-member Board of Trustees including the president of Murray State University, two members of the faculty and staff, and a minimum of two alumni of the University.

The duties and responsibilities of the Foundation include the administration of scholarship funds, endowments, and other contributions that are established through private support. The Foundation administers planned, current and deferred gifts. Gift arrangements through trusts, annuities, bequests, and insurance policies account for numerous endowments which fund scholarships and other educational programs. The Foundation staff ensures that the stated objectives of the donor are met, currently managing over 1,100 scholarships and endowment accounts.

Contributions received by the MSU Foundation are administered by the Joint Investments Committee. The Committee establishes the investment policy and supervises the portfolio of the Foundation. The investment pool is comprised of Foundation funds as well as funds held for the Alumni Association and Murray State University. The Joint Investment Committee is composed of at least two members of the Murray State University Board of Regents, two members of the Alumni Council, and three members of the Board of Trustees.

The Murray State University Foundation, Inc. also owns and operates the Frances E. Miller Memorial Golf Course.
