Introduction

This manual is a guide for the practicum and internship experiences in school and clinical mental health counseling. The goal of this manual is to facilitate the planning, organization, and implementation of the practicum and internship experiences for the counseling student, the field supervisor, and the faculty supervisor.

Professional Identity

The intention of the Counseling Degree Programs at Murray State University is to cultivate in students an identity as a professional counselor. Historically, the counseling profession emerged from three different sources: vocational counseling, school counseling, and mental health counseling. A professional counselor practices and adheres to the ACA Code of Ethics (2014). The Preamble of the ACA Code of Ethics describes the ACA an educational, scientific, and professional organization whose members work in a variety of settings and serve in multiple capacities. Counseling is a professional relationship that empowers diverse individuals, families, and groups to accomplish mental health, wellness, education, and career goals.

The mission of ACA is to “The mission of the American Counseling Association is to enhance the quality of life in society by promoting the development of professional counselors, advancing the counseling profession, and using the profession and practice of counseling to promote respect for human dignity and diversity.” (<http://www.counseling.org>). The ACA includes, but is not limited to, the following divisions: American Rehabilitation Counseling Association; Association for Multicultural Counseling and Development; Association for Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual and Transgender Issues in Counseling; Association for Specialists in Group Work; Association for Spiritual, Ethical, and Religious Values in Counseling; Association for Assessment in Counseling; American Career Development Association; International Association of Addiction and Offender Counselors; Association for Adult Development and Aging; International Association of Marriage and Family Counselors; American College Counseling Association; and Association for Counselor Education and Supervision.

The Counseling Program of Murray State University seeks to graduate professionals who demonstrate accountability to the profession by modeling the ACA philosophy, following the ACA Code of Ethics (2014), and belonging to professional organizations. Students are encouraged to maintain the highest standards of the profession by seeking licensing on the LPCA and LPCC levels in the State of Kentucky and through professional credentialing at the national level. In addition, demonstration of professional identity as a counselor is encouraged beyond the graduate school program through maintaining ongoing supervision and/or consultation, participating in research, reading professional journals and books, and attending professional conferences.

The Practicum/Internship Experience: Definitions

The practicum/internship experience is a planned educational experience in which the student is expected to fully participate in the activities of a functional school or clinical mental health counseling program. The practicum/internship student will complete practicum/internship in a school or mental health agency, which provides a program of services designed to help individuals function to their optimal capability. The school counseling student should get experiences in facilitating and enhancing school learning through individual counseling sessions, group counseling sessions, class room presentations, and other appropriate school counseling activities. Clinical mental health counseling students should get experiences in facilitating individual counseling sessions, group counseling sessions, intake assessments, case management, and other appropriate mental health counseling activities.

In each school counseling setting, the practicum/internship student is supervised by a certified school counselor who has a minimum of two years counseling experience and has been appropriately trained at least at the Master's degree level in counseling or a closely related educational field. In each community agency setting, the practicum/internship student is supervised by a licensed professional counselor, social worker, or psychologist who has a minimum of two years of counseling experience and has been appropriately trained at least at the Master's degree level in counseling or a closely related educational field. The site supervisor oversees the total learning process of the practicum/internship student in the field setting. The site supervisor's evaluation of the practicum/internship student provides the University with an important measure of the student's level of competency as a counselor-in-training. Site supervisors must complete a supervision training (provided by the Practicum Coordinator or another qualified trainer) prior to students being approved to supervise.

The evaluation of the practicum/internship student's performance is primarily based upon the practicum/internship contract. This includes a list of responsibilities, objectives, and activities required to complete those objectives, which the student will complete during the field practicum/internship experience. This is an agreement among the practicum/internship student, the site supervisor, and the faculty supervisor as to the goals, guidelines, and expectations of the practicum/internship experience. Site and faculty supervisors will complete a formal written evaluation provided by the counseling program at midterm and end of semester. Both faculty and site supervisors are responsible for providing both summative and formative evaluations of students. (CACREP Section 3: C)

The Practicum and Internship Coordinator is responsible for the approval or disapproval of the site for the practicum/internship experience. The faculty supervisor is responsible for weekly group supervision and evaluation of the student in the practicum/internship experience. The faculty supervisor will contact the supervisor in the field setting during the practicum/internship experience. The faculty supervisor should maintain consistent contact with site supervisor with a minimum of one in person, on site visit each semester. In addition, the faculty supervisor is available for consultation with the agency/school staff members in order to facilitate an effective practicum experience.

Per state standards, school counseling students are required to complete clinical hours at a minimum of two different locations. Typically, students will choose to complete practicum at one agency/school and then complete internships at a second. For school counseling students, who are also teachers, we recommend doing your practicum outside of your own school as there are far less hours to complete. School counseling students are required to work with two of the three grade levels (elementary, middle and/or high school) per EPSB requirements. Hours can be completed at more than one site in the same semester. Therefore, students can do all three clinical experiences at one location, but must add a secondary site. Hours at the secondary site shall be equivalent to those required in Practicum (150 total hours with 40 direct client hours). Mental health students are highly encouraged to complete clinical experiences at more than one location, however, IF the clinical site has a wide variety in client population (for example, children, adults, adolescents, and problem areas) they may stay at one clinical site. All students in practicum or internship must obtain professional liability insurance (CACREP Section 3: A).

Students are required to lead or co-lead a counseling or psychoeducational group during either practicum or internship. Students must submit the group verification of hours form that the site supervisor will sign off on. (CACREP Section 3: E)

The Practicum Experience: Requirements and Goals

Three credit hours of CNS 790 – Practicum experience must be included in all programs in Counselor Education at Murray State University. Students are required to arrange for a practicum during the semester PRIOR to the semester it is to be taken. Paperwork for the fall placements is due no later than March 1st and paperwork for the spring semester is due no later than October 1st. There are a limited number of openings for each section and students are assigned on a first come first serve basis. Each student should discuss with his/her placement site if there is a background check required and, if so, what type of background check.

Students must complete a minimum of 150 on-site hours of practicum experience during a semester. The minimum requirements are:

- 150 on-site hours for three academic credits or an average of 10 hours per week for 15 weeks during a fall or spring semester, 40 hours of these must be in direct services, which includes individual or group counseling. (CACREP Section 3: F and G)
- A minimum of one hour a week of individual or triadic supervision provided by the site supervisor. (CACREP Section 3: H)
- A minimum of 1 ½ hours a week of group supervision (maximum group size of 12 students). (CACREP Section: I, T, U)
- Students must audio/video record (with client or guardian consent) sessions to present in group supervision or faculty must agree to conduct live supervision (CACREP Section 3: B)
- Must conduct a counseling or psychoeducational group during either practicum or internship (CACREP Section 3: E)
- Have ability to become familiar with a variety of professional activities and resources, including technological resources, during their practicum and internship. (CACREP Section 3: D)

The general goal of the field placement experience is the development of a counselor capable of assuming a professional role. Specific goals of the field placement experience include the following:

1. To utilize the variety of skills and techniques available to counselors in assisting the client.
2. To demonstrate in individual and group settings the necessary professional behaviors appropriate to the particular setting and its client population.
3. To gain knowledge of the administration and internal workings of agencies or schools.
4. To gain a working knowledge of community resources available for the coordination of services to clients as well as for the referral of clients.
5. To work with other personnel in a collaborative or consultative manner.
6. To gain self-knowledge and insight as it relates to clients and the process of counseling.

Special emphasis will be placed on critiquing counseling skills, either observed or video recorded. The practicum is primarily a tutorial form of instruction consisting of common core requirements yet is highly individualized. It will allow you the opportunity to utilize your previous knowledge and course work by putting into practical application what you have learned. The emphasis will be on you as a helper who can provide the necessary conditions, skills, and knowledge to bring about better adjustment and functioning of those whom you serve. This will require a considerable amount of time and a true commitment on your part. Hopefully, you will participate not just on "tasks to be performed for a grade," but truly as learning experiences which will further help you in your own self-evaluation, exploration, and development. Please note: completion of practicum is contingent upon completing all necessary requirements at the clinical/school site including but not limited to case notes, treatment plans, assessment reports etc. Students must pass the CESA during practicum and prior to moving in to internship.

The Internship Experience: Requirements and Goals

Three credit hours of CNS 794 - Internship I and three credit hours of CNS 795 – Internship II experience must be included in all programs in Counselor Education at Murray State University. Students are advised to arrange for an internship during the semester PRIOR to the semester it is to be taken. Paperwork for the fall placements is due no later than March 1st and paperwork for the spring semester is due no later than October 1st. There are a limited number of openings for each section and students are assigned on a first come first serve basis. Each student should discuss with their placement site if there is a background check required and, if so, what type of background check. All 600 hours of internship must be completed in your area of study (school or clinical mental health).

Students must complete a minimum of 600 on-site hours of internship (300 per three credit hours) experience during a semester. The minimum requirements are:

- 600 on-site hours (300 for each three academic credits) or an average of 20 hours per week for 15 weeks during a fall or spring semester, 240 total direct hours (120 hours per three credit hour course) of these must be in direct services, which includes individual or group counseling. (CACREP Section 3: J and K)
- A minimum of 1 ½ hours a week of group supervision provided by faculty supervisor (not to exceed 12 students per group). (CACREP Section 3: M, T, U)
- A minimum of one hour a week of on-site supervision. (CACREP Section 3: L)
- Students must audio/video record (with client or guardian consent) sessions to present in group supervision or faculty must agree to conduct live supervision (CACREP Section 3: B)
- Must conduct a counseling or psychoeducational group during either practicum or internship (CACREP Section 3: E)
- Have ability to become familiar with a variety of professional activities and resources, including technological resources, during their practicum and internship. (CACREP Section 3: D)

The general goal of the field placement experience is the development of a counselor capable of assuming a professional role. Specific goals of the field placement experience include the following:

1. To gain a functional understanding of the Standards for Beginning Counselors by working with them in a school or agency
2. Setting to promote academic development, personal social development, and career development.
3. To utilize the variety of skills and techniques available to counselors in assisting the client.
4. To demonstrate in individual and group settings the necessary professional behaviors appropriate to the particular setting and its client population.
5. To gain knowledge of the administration and internal workings of agencies or schools.
6. To gain a working knowledge of community resources available for the coordination of services to clients as well as for the referral of clients.
7. To work with other personnel in a collaborative or consultative manner.

8. To gain self-knowledge and insight as it relates to clients and the process of counseling.

Special emphasis will be placed on critiquing counseling skills, either observed or video recorded. The internship is primarily a tutorial form of instruction consisting of common core requirements yet is highly individualized. Internship should symbolize the culmination of your program. It will allow you the opportunity to utilize your previous knowledge and course work by putting into practical application what you have learned. The emphasis will be on you as a helper who can provide the necessary conditions, skills, and knowledge to bring about better adjustment and functioning of those whom you serve. This will require a considerable amount of time and a true commitment on your part. Hopefully, you will participate not just on "tasks to be performed for a grade," but truly as learning experiences which will further help you in your own self-evaluation, exploration, and development. Please note: completion of internship is contingent upon completing all necessary requirements at the clinical/school site including but not limited to case notes, treatment plans, assessment reports etc.

Inclement Weather Policy

In the event of inclement weather causing the closing of your agency/school, faculty MAY consider extending group supervision in order to help you complete your clinical hours. The following conditions must be met

- You have achieved 80% of your direct client contact hours
- You agree to attend group supervision

You will be permitted to continue to see clients per the amount of days your agency/school was closed due to weather, but not to extend past the end of May/December (holiday break). You will receive an incomplete in the course. Once the hours are completed, your grade will be changed. This will prohibit you from graduating that semester. If you still do not have your hours completed, you will stop seeing clients until the next semester. At that time, you will finish the incomplete. You have until October 10th (spring incomplete) and March 10 (fall incomplete). You cannot register for your next clinical experience until the following semester. If you have already registered, you must drop the course.

Incomplete Hours Policy

Practicum - If a student does not complete clinical hours in practicum, but completes all other requirements for the course, the student will receive an I. The student must complete all requirements for practicum in the following semester, inclusive of clinical hours, by the incomplete grade submission deadline, as established by University policy. If clinical hours are not completed by the deadline for incomplete grade submissions, as established by University policy, the student will receive a non-passing grade (i.e., C or lower), and she/he must enroll in practicum in a subsequent semester. Clinical hours from the non-passing semester can rollover into the subsequent semester. If clinical hours cannot be completed in that subsequent semester of practicum, then the student will be dismissed from the program, as CNS 790 can only be repeated for a maximum of six credit hours.

Internship - If clinical hours are not completed in Internship I, and if a student received a passing grade, the student can enroll in Internship II (3 credit hours). Obtained clinical hours from Internship I will rollover into Internship II. If the student does not complete total required Internship I and II hours, in Internship II, but completes all other requirements with a passing grade, then the student can register for Internship II (1 credit hour) in subsequent semesters until hours are completed.

Advanced Internship - If clinical hours are not completed in Advanced Internship I, and if a student received a passing grade, the student can enroll in Advanced Internship II (3 credit hours). Obtained clinical hours from Advanced Internship I will rollover into Advanced Internship II. If the student does not complete total required Advanced Internship I and II hours, in Advanced Internship II, but completes all other requirements with a passing grade, then the student can register for Advanced Internship II (1 credit hour) in subsequent semesters until hours are completed.

Liability (Malpractice) Insurance (CACREP Section 3: A)

1. The student, through the American Counseling Association (ACA) Liability Insurance or through a private carrier, will obtain liability (Malpractice) insurance for the practicum student. Students MUST present a copy of their liability insurance to their faculty supervisor prior to each clinical experience. School counseling students may obtain liability insurance through the American School Counseling Association (ASCA).
2. Liability (Malpractice) insurance for the faculty supervisor will be provided by the faculty supervisor having ACA Liability Insurance or through a private carrier.
3. Liability (Malpractice) insurance for the site supervisor will be provided by the employing agency or site supervisor. Site supervisors must have liability insurance.

Practicum/Internship Field Selection

The purpose of the counseling practicum/internship is to provide students with closely supervised counseling experiences that will facilitate their continued development as professional counselors. It is essential that students select field settings consistent with their professional goals and objectives and that a Memorandum of Agreement (CACREP Section 3: R) between MSU's Counseling Program and the field setting is in place (See Appendix A for forms). These forms must be submitted to the Practicum and Internship Coordinator prior to seeing clients in this setting. Students must meet with the Practicum and Internship Coordinator to discuss the practicum/internship field setting before initial contact is made with the field setting. Note: Your entire internship MUST be completed in your specialization area (School counseling students must work in a school setting and mental health students must work in an agency setting). For school counselors seeking licensure, you are eligible to complete additional coursework and will have to complete a 600-hour internship in an agency setting. Please Note: If you have previously been a client at a clinical site, you may not be eligible to complete clinical experiences at that site.

When selecting practicum and internship field settings, students are strongly encouraged to consider the following:

- What type of supervision is offered?
- Is the supervision provided by a qualified supervisor?
- Availability of clients.
- Type of clientele - Clients should be similar to the student's career objectives and practicum or internship developmental sequence.
- The field setting should have the availability and the privacy of an office or other confidential setting.
- Number of positions available at the field setting.

- The field setting must allow videotaping of counseling sessions.
- The field setting should provide a clear description of its expectations for students placed in that setting.

Students will be evaluated by:

1. Regular attendance.
2. Maintenance of complete and accurate case records.
3. Professional behavior (including being on time, being prepared, and appropriate attire).
4. Case presentations.
5. Participation in observation, feedback, and consultation.
6. Adequately meeting their responsibilities in CNS 790, CNS 794, CNS 795, CNS 796, and CNS 797.

Students are encouraged to select a field setting that will stretch their capabilities and not simply allow them to "get through" the experience. Students are expected to do such things as:

1. Come to understand some of the basic principles of human growth, development, and learning and how these principles facilitate learning and counseling processes.
2. Increase their understanding of the various counseling theories, techniques, and procedures.
3. Practice basic skills essential to counseling.
4. Increase their understanding of the dynamics of individual, couple and family behavior and the larger context in which these systems are embedded.
5. Foster an internally consistent approach to counseling.
6. Establish and maintain counseling relationships within the Code of Ethics of the American Counseling Association.
7. Increase their ability to discern clients' problems and implement appropriate intervention strategies.
8. Increase confidence in their ability to perform the counselor role.
9. Learn how to write effective case notes and reports.
10. Meet other objectives that are required by the faculty and field supervisor.

Practicum/Internship Application/Approval Process

Students are required to submit all of their paperwork the semester PRIOR to the semester in which they plan to complete practicum or internship. The deadline for submission of paperwork is October 1st for the spring semester and March 1st for the fall semester. Admission is based on a first come first serve basis. Practicum sections cannot exceed SIX students and internship cannot exceed 12 students (combined Internship I and Internship II). NOTE: Practicum students must complete CNS 619- Foundational Skills and CNS 624-Theories of Counseling PRIOR to enrolling in Practicum.

After the completed paperwork is submitted, the Practicum/Internship Coordinator will contact each site supervisor and verify he/she meets the appropriate requirements and completes the site supervision training. If the site is new, the Practicum/Internship Coordinator will visit the site to ensure it has the appropriate space etc. Once this process is completed, the Practicum/Internship Coordinator will contact the appropriate faculty supervisor and the faculty supervisor will provide the necessary course override.

Background Checks and Drug Testing

Many field settings now require background checks and random drug testing. A background check is mandatory for practicum or internship placement in most school settings. To be best prepared for beginning practicum/internship on time, the department encourages you to get a background check during your first semester. The background check takes approximately 6-8 weeks to complete. Contact your site administration for more information on the procedures for background checks.

Practicum/Internship Evaluation

(CACREP Section 3: C)

Detailed evaluation of the practicum/internship is an important part of the practicum/internship student's learning experience. The general criteria for evaluation are: (1) quality of on-job performance, including evidence of need for less supervision as the internship progresses; (2) estimate of ability to carry out increasingly complex responsibilities; (3) demonstrated awareness by student of her/his effect on others; and (4) scope and depth of professional insights gained through the internship.

Site supervisors are requested to conduct evaluation sessions with each student halfway through the practicum/internship and a final evaluation at the end of the semester. The student's practicum/internship contract, including as it does, goals, objectives, and an expected list of activities to be completed, should serve as the basis for discussion. If it is necessary to alter the projections in the learning contract, such changes should be reported to the university supervisor for consultation and approval.

The syllabus distributed by your faculty supervisor will provide a specific summary of requirements on which evaluation will be made and grades assigned.

Evaluation forms completed by the field supervisor should be reviewed with the practicum/internship student, and both parties must sign the form before being sent to the faculty supervisor.

Recording Equipment and Procedures

(CACREP Section 3: B)

This section is designed as an overview of videotape recording and equipment considerations. It offers general guidelines, which will serve to facilitate the practicum experience by improving the quality of the recording. Presenting a quality reproduction of the counseling session to the individual/triadic and group supervisor will allow the meeting to take place. If the tape is inaudible, time spent with supervisor will not count as one hour of face-to-face supervision.

Equipment: Students must purchase a video recording camera. The proper equipment will, in many instances, make up for less than optimal conditions. Price is not necessarily the most important factor to consider when purchasing recording equipment.

- Microphones. Listen to determine if the microphone picks up the internal noises of the recording equipment. This will interfere with your recordings. Also, any external noises from the location (i.e. ac units, bathroom and hallway noises, etc. will interfere with your recordings. It is your responsibility to ensure that you have an adequate recording to share in supervision that is free from disturbances. An external microphone or lapel microphone can significantly enhance the quality of the recording. Test the equipment at your setting.
- Headphones: Students need to have headphones to ensure private screening during Zoom supervision.
- USB Drive: You are required to purchase a USB jump drive that is password protected.
- SD/XD Card: Students are required to purchase a password protected card to record videos on.

Recording Procedures: Following are some basic guidelines for producing quality recordings:

1. If possible, pick a quiet room, free from background noise and echo disturbance.
2. Eliminate background noise by placing the video equipment two to three feet from the recording source.
3. In many settings a wide-angle lens is also necessary.
4. Before buying, try the cameras to see the quality of both the picture and the sound.

Recorded Sessions. Recorded sessions can be problematic regarding confidentiality. Be sure that client names are not written on the tape or box. Supervisors may have their own policy when it comes to keeping recordings. Generally speaking, recordings should not be kept any longer than necessary, usually until the next supervision session. Recording over the previous sessions should erase recordings.

Recordings that are being held for review should be clearly marked as confidential (if recorded on tape) with the student's name, address, phone number, program, and date. The client's name should be protected (e.g., by the use of initials). Regard recordings as being as confidential as the session itself.

Record Keeping

All records concerning the counselor-client relationship must be treated with maximum concern for confidentiality. Records should include: interview notes, any correspondence (including notations of telephone conversations), recordings, electronic data files, test results, and all other information pertinent to the case. Each practicum/internship field setting may have its own policies and procedures regarding the handling of these records, and following such policy is usually a condition of the practicum/internship experience. The following general guidelines are provided to supplement existing directives and/or provide information for the student who is lacking direction regarding case (interview) notes.

Case Notes:

More and more emphasis is necessarily put on the form that case notes should take. The impetus for this emphasis should be a concern for providing the client the best possible service. Unfortunately, fear of litigation is playing an increasing role. This driving force has inspired the creation of models for note taking designed to alleviate this threat. Still, from a counseling standpoint, note taking should aid the counselor in focusing on the important issues of the previous session. This section will delineate two models which may be useful for the student: (1) D.A.P., and (2) S.O.A.P.

The D.A.P. Model for case notes. This acronym stands for description, assessment, and plan. The general model follows this form: following each session, the counselor's entry into the case notes should include a description of the session (including important issues regarding the client's presenting problem), an assessment of the situation (including thematic material regarding the client's situation), and a plan (including possible directions of future counseling), and any assignments given to the client to do between sessions. Include also a report of completed or uncompleted assignments from the previous session.

The S.O.A.P. Model for case notes. This acronym stands for subjective, objective, assessment, and plan. Essentially, the same information is gathered with the S.O.A.P. Model as is with the D.A.P. Model. The difference is that the description portion of the D.A.P. Model is split in two. The assessment and plan remain the same, but the description is written in a separate subjective and an objective form. An example of the objective portion might be, "the client manifests depression expressed in tearfulness and a flat affect." While the subjective portion would continue, "the divorce has had a devastating effect on the client."

Client Assessment

The initial interview must necessarily start with the gathering of information pertinent to the client's background. Many field settings will have their own forms; but if not, this section delineates a model, which can be utilized by counselors to gather information in an intake or initial session. It is important to note that counselor-client relationships must take precedent; this process does not necessarily have to be a sterile procedure. Rather the counselor must fit this gathering of information into his/her own interpersonal style while allowing the client to feel comfortable and at ease about telling counselors their concerns.

The Bio-Psycho-Social-Assessment Model

The gathering of information pertinent to clients and their problems falls under three general categories, that is, biological, psychological, and social, hence the Bio-Psycho-Social Assessment Model.

Biological. Design the questions to address issues regarding the client's history of both mental and physical well-being, history of hospitalization and previous treatment, medications, familial history of genetic and/or developmental disorders.

Psychological. Design questions to address issues regarding the psychological well-being of the client specifically (i.e. previous counseling and/or treatment history, and recurring patterns of maladaptive behavior, the client's perceptions of his/her strengths and weaknesses, suicide ideation, etc).

Social. These questions should elicit information regarding the client's social conditions for past and present (i.e. family of origin, nuclear and extended familial relationships, employment, church activities and spiritual values, social stressors, financial condition, military service, hobbies, likes, dislikes, leisure activities, etc).

Additional Considerations

Field Setting Requirements. In addition to this initial information, each field setting may or may not have specific requirements. Consult with the field supervisor regarding particular requirements.

Counselor Comments. Comments regarding clients may be recorded in clients' charts; however, at the time of intake, there may not be a chart worked up for a particular client. If this is the case, counselors will want to record a summary of their impressions of clients along with this intake information (e.g., the client's appearance and affect, and the counselor's assessment of major treatment issues at the time of intake).

Referral and Termination of Clients

It is the practicum/internship student's responsibility to become familiar with and follow accepted agency procedure for terminating the client/counselor relationship or the referral of clients to another counselor within the agency/school or to another individual or agency/school.

Referrals

Referral of a case is in order when the client's problem(s) and/or needs do not seem appropriate or amenable to the services provided at the practicum field setting. Referral may also be appropriate when it is evident that it is the ethical and legal responsibility of the staff and counselors to report specific information.

Referrals may be necessary for any one of several reasons. These would include situations where clients are experiencing such extreme emotionality that they cannot function enough to care for their basic needs, clients taking medications that appear to have an adverse effect on emotions or to which clients appear to have toxic reactions, or it is necessary to terminate the relationship prematurely because of a change of field setting for the counselor.

Students should be knowledgeable about resources so that a satisfactory referral can be initiated. However, students should check with their faculty/departmental supervisor or field supervisor prior to making any referral.

Referral is necessary when clients' problems and needs are not effectively met by the providing agency/school.

Community resources that can assist counselors in the provision of effective services or intervening on behalf of clients or others are provided by the field setting or faculty/departmental supervisors.

Termination:

Either the client or the counselor may terminate the relationship, or the relationship may be terminated by mutual agreement. The latter form is most desirable; however, the other two may take place in very acceptable situations. A client may terminate, however, because the counselor has been ineffective or offended the client. If this appears to be the case, the counselor should consult with the faculty/departmental supervisor and field supervisor as to what, if any, remedial action should be taken, in addition to reviewing what may have been done inappropriately and how to avoid the same mistakes in the future.

The termination of counseling is a very important part of the counseling process and may have either a positive or negative effect on clients' continued progress. In counseling, a special relationship is built with the client and if the relationship is terminated abruptly and without careful processing, the client is likely to be left with very poor perceptions of counseling at the very least, and at worst, the client may feel devastated.

Termination is acceptable if the termination is done for the right reasons. Ideally, termination takes place because the clients have reached their goals in the counseling process. In this case the client would initiate and the counselor would agree. It may be desirable or even necessary for the counselor to terminate the counseling relationship. This is appropriate if it is no longer physically possible for the counselor to continue seeing clients because of completion of the program or the counselor will, for some other reason, be leaving the agency or area. It is also appropriate for the counselor to terminate when they determine that it is in the best interest of the client, that is, no further progress is being made, the client is becoming dependent on the counselor, or the counselor believes the client is no longer benefiting from counseling.

Care is necessary in terminating and it is recommended you consult with the faculty and field supervisors before terminating a client during the practicum or internship experience.
