College of Humanities and Fine Arts

Mission

The College of Humanities and Fine Arts strives to foster awareness and appreciation of the humanities, fine arts, and social sciences among students, the university community, and the public. The College is a learning community dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge and its application through civic and professional leadership. Students and faculty members act as advocates for the humanities, fine arts, and social sciences in a variety of ways, ranging from teaching and scholarly work to performance, exhibition, and consultation. To this end, the College actively promotes research and creative activities among its faculty and students.

The College seeks to provide a personalized learning experience promoting the free and rigorous pursuit of knowledge, respect for differing points of view and cultures, appreciation of personal expression in all its artistic forms, awareness of the role of an educated citizenry in a democratic society, and understanding of the role values play in thought and action. The College aims to develop students who think critically and creatively, communicate effectively, and participate actively in their communities. Thus, the College of Humanities and Fine Arts is committed to preparing well-educated, thoughtful, and contributing citizens of the world.

Programs

The College of Humanities and Fine Arts consists of the departments of Art and Design; English and Philosophy; Global Languages and Theatre Arts; History; Global Languages and Theatre Arts; Music; Political Science and Sociology; and Psychology.

Undergraduate degrees offered are Bachelor of Science (B.S.), Bachelor of Arts (B.A.), Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A.), Bachelor of Music Education (B.M.E.), and Bachelor of Music (B.M.). Graduate degrees are Doctor of Arts (D.A.), Master of Arts (M.A.), Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.), Master of Music Education (M.M.E.), Master of Public Administration (M.P.A.), and Master of Science (M.S.). Murray State University is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Art and Design, the National Association of Schools of Music, the National Association of Schools of Theatre, and the Master's in Psychology and Counseling Accreditation Council.

The College offers programs in the traditional humanities (English, history, and global languages); social sciences (political science and sociology); and behavioral science (psychology). The fine and performing arts (art, music, and theatre) offer traditional and contemporary programs in their disciplines through studio and classroom courses, performances, gallery events, and ensembles. Additionally, the college encourages all students to participate in the cultural and artistic life of the campus through creative writing colloquia, poetry readings, exhibitions, and participation in music ensembles, theatrical productions, marching band, and/or choral groups. The college offers a variety of innovative arts, humanities, and social science courses through the institution's University Studies curriculum. English composition and the two interdisciplinary core courses, World Civilizations and Humanities, are integral parts of preparing every Murray State student to communicate effectively; to engage in sound analysis and make logical decisions; to understand the world's historical, literary, and philosophical traditions; to understand cultural diversity and competing economic and political systems as well as complex moral and ethical issues; and to become responsible citizens in a democratic society, all of which are desired characteristics of the Murray State graduate.

The college serves as the cultural heart of the university and the region by providing a broad range of cultural and intellectual programs. Campus and regional community members are encouraged to attend college events. Distinguished college faculty engage actively in teaching, scholarly/creative activity, and service. The college is committed to service to the community through its role in teacher education and involvement with the public schools. The English and Philosophy department sponsors the MSU Reading Series and the Murray Shakespeare Festival. The Global Languages and Theatre Arts Department sponsors the Cinema International as well as the several theatrical performances each academic year. The Department of Political Science and Sociology annually sponsors the Harry Lee Waterfield Distinguished Lecture in Public Affairs.

In addition, the college offers students rich opportunities for experiential learning. Several departments in the college offer professional engagement courses to help students make connections between humanities and fine arts content and application of skills in real world settings. In addition to course-embedded experiential learning, particularly in the fine arts studio courses and lessons, the college emphasizes undergraduate research; service learning; internships; education abroad; and co-curricular experiences, such as through Mock Trial, Model United Nations, and the literary magazine Notations. MSU is a member of both the Kentucky Institute for International Studies and the Cooperative Center for Study Abroad consortia of public and private universities offering study-abroad programs in numerous international destinations. Many college faculty are also involved in foreign travel and study through MSU's Signature Education Abroad and Discover programs.

For graduate study, the college offers a doctorate in English and master's degrees in creative writing, English, history, music education, clinical and general experimental psychology, public administration, and teaching English to speakers of other languages (TESOL). The college also supports the Master of Arts in Education in Secondary Education. Graduates of programs in the college pursue a variety of careers. In addition to teaching, graduates are employed in business, communications, government, law, the ministry, psychology, and a variety of private and social agencies, as well as international governmental and non-governmental organizations. Careers available in the fine arts fields include performance (vocal, instrumental, and theatrical); design; web design; graphic communications; and art, museum, and theatre management. All programs follow the liberal arts model of preparing students broadly for a rapidly changing job market. Students are prepared to communicate effectively, think critically, develop the analytical skills necessary to solve problems, learn on their own, understand human behavior, and imagine alternative ways of viewing problems. Several of the programs in the college provide excellent preparation for a career in law.

Departments and programs of the College of Humanities and Fine Arts are housed in five buildings on the main campus: the Price Doyle Fine Arts Center, Faculty Hall, Visual Arts Building, Wells Hall, and Wilson Hall. The college also utilizes the Lindsey Costume House.

Liberal Arts

The Liberal Arts major is designed for students interested in investigating connections between two or more traditional liberal arts fields. Following a wide-reaching University Studies and core program, students choose two 18-hour fields of study drawn from the arts, humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences, plus a minor, and at least one Study Abroad experience. Liberal Arts majors also produce a multidisciplinary senior project in which they explore a topic of interest that combines at least two of their fields of study.

Liberal Arts majors are self-motivated and think creatively across the disciplines. Liberal Arts majors prepare to serve the growing demand in business, industry, and the professions for broadly educated individuals who exhibit interpersonal, analytical, technical, and communication skills, as well as individual initiative. The Liberal Arts Coordinator is Barbara Cobb, who may be contacted by email (bcobb@murraystate.edu) or by calling 270-809-4538.

Chair: TBA. Faculty: Beaver, Bryant, Gamble, Hand-Bryant, Lavery, Leys, S. Martin, T. Martin, Reeves, Smetana, Utgaard, Williams.

The Department of Art and Design provides a broad range of programs and professional opportunities for students preparing to work as practicing artists, craftpersons and designers, for careers in art education, and for graduate study in art, art education, and art history. The Department of Art and Design offers the Bachelor of Fine Arts, the Bachelor of Art, and the Bachelor of Science degrees in Art with a studio art track; and the Bachelor of Fine Arts and the Bachelor of Art in Art/Studio Art-Enhanced Art History Track. The Bachelor of Fine Arts, the Bachelor of Art, and the Bachelor of Science degrees in art teaching certification are available to undergraduate students within each degree as a track requiring only an additional year of study. Degree candidates are certified to teach art in kindergarten through grade 12.

Areas of studio emphasis include ceramics, drawing, furniture design/woodworking, graphic design, metalsmithing, painting, photography, printmaking, and sculpture; non-studio areas include art education and art history. Furthermore, minors are offered in both studio art and art history; in addition art history is offered as an area of emphasis within the liberal arts degree. A number of departmental courses are also included in University Studies: art and visual culture, three introductory courses in art history, and studio art for non-majors. Graduate courses in art are offered in support of the M.A.Ed. with a teaching area in studio art.

The curricular structure of each degree program is organized to encourage students to study and explore a variety of media and techniques upon which later specialization may be based in the areas listed above. At the intermediate and advanced levels, students are encouraged by faculty to express their own personal direction and ideas and to establish professional standards by the exhibition of their work. The culmination of the student's undergraduate study is the senior exhibition requirement.

The Department of Art and Design actively supports personal and artistic growth of its students by promoting the Institute for International Studies, which offers a variety of study abroad opportunities for MSU art students, and the National Student Exchange.

The department operates a network of four galleries on campus: the department's Clara M. Eagle Gallery, located in the Price Doyle Fine Arts Center, includes the main gallery and the Mary Ed Mecoy Hall Gallery on the sixth floor, as well as an upper gallery on the seventh floor. In addition, the Curris Center Gallery provides regular exhibitions on the first floor of the Curris Center. The galleries exhibition schedules include regional, national, and international artists, as well as the department faculty and alumni and the community at large. Every spring a juried exhibition of student work, organized by OMAS (Organization of Murray Art Students), fills the main Clara M. Eagle Gallery space and camps the academic year. Furthermore, the Visiting Artist program brings in artists from across the country for workshops and public lectures throughout the school year.

Each summer, the department also organizes a residential Summer Art Workshop for high school students. Studios in all areas are well-equipped with traditional and contemporary technologies (3-D printer, laser cutter, CNC router, etc.), providing maximum opportunities for students to pursue their interests. The Art and Design classrooms and studios are located in the Price Doyle Fine Arts Building, Old Fine Arts Building, the Visual Arts Building, and Woods Hall. Advanced undergraduate students are provided personal studio spaces.

NOTE: A grade of C or better must be achieved in all courses with the ART prefix that are applied to art area degree requirements. All courses with the ART prefix that serve as prerequisites require a grade of C or better before the next course in a sequence may be taken.

Department of English and Philosophy

7C9 Faculty Hall
270-809-2401

Chair: M. Sue Sroda. Faculty: Adair, Arneson, Bell, Binfield, Black, Brown, Carthell, Claywell, Cobb, Crofton, Cyzewski, Dawkins, Easterling, Edminster, Goggins, Jerrell, Johns, Jones, McIntosh, Morgan, Neelon, Nielsen, Osborne, Phillips, Roulston, Song, Stone, Trites, Walker, Wier, Xia.

The Department of English and Philosophy helps students explore the world of words and ideas while preparing for a variety of creative and dynamic careers. Students majoring in the department's programs can look forward to success in fields such as creative writing, technical writing, business, publishing, teaching, law, and journalism. Through their studies at Murray State, English and Philosophy majors gain the flexibility of a well-developed mind, a facility with the power of language, and the analytical skills employers want.

To reach their goals, students may choose from a number of areas, tracks, and minors. Note: Each track program described below—Literature Track, Creative Writing Track, English/Philosophy Track, and three English Education tracks—shares a core of courses.

English Teacher Certification Programs

English Teacher Certification Programs help students develop the skills needed to succeed as teachers in the classroom. The programs work in conjunction with the College of Education and Human Services to prepare students for certification as elementary, middle, and secondary school teachers. The department offers the B.A. within the English/Education area and the B.A. in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages. A minor in English Education is also offered.

Creative Writing Program

The Creative Writing Program helps students prepare for careers in editing, publishing, law, advertising, journalism, and communications, in addition to helping them grow as practicing poets and/or fiction writers and teachers of creative writing. Students may earn a B.F.A. in Creative Writing degree or a B.A. in English/Creative Writing track. A minor in creative writing is offered as well.

Literature Program

Literature Program students examine the fiction, poetry, drama, and film of a wide variety of traditions, from ancient to contemporary. The program helps students develop a broad sense of literature, focusing on both traditional and non-canonical writers in English. The B.A. degree in English/Literature is available, as well as minors in literature and rhetoric.

Philosophy Program

Students enrolled in the Philosophy program explore the historical trajectory of philosophical thought and its current applications in many professional and academic fields. Philosophy is a critical and reflective discipline, the study of which strengthens students' evaluative and moral reasoning skills, and prepares students to succeed in future endeavors such as the arts, law school, seminary, medicine, business, computer science, and education. Students may earn a B.A. or B.S. degree through the Literature/Philosophy Track.

Graduate Programs

The Department of English and Philosophy offers the Master of Arts in English (with concentrations in literature, English education, and English with philosophy as a cognate discipline); a Master of Arts in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL); a low-residency Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing; a certificate in Gender Studies and courses toward an English specialization in the Master of Arts in Education (secondary education) degree.

For even more advanced study, the department has created the innovative Doctor of Arts in English Pedagogy and Technology (with specializations in teaching literature, teaching writing, and K-12 language, language arts and literacy).

Department of Global Languages and Theatre Arts

Global Languages - 4A Faculty Hall 270-809-2501

Theatre Arts - 106 Fine Arts Building 270-809-4421

Chair: Brent Menchinger. Faculty: Barne, Crider, Ekida, Garre, Graham, Hatakeyama, Kane, Ortega, Phillipy, Picech-Reisinger, Post, Riegler, Romero-Gonzalez, Saint Paul, Walsh, Wu.

The Department of Global Languages and Theatre Arts advances the understanding and appreciation of language and theatre study domestically and abroad. The department provides an important facet of the liberal education of all MSU students by offering a variety of courses for undergraduate and graduate students. These courses increase the cultural awareness of our students and helps them fulfill the necessary graduation requirements. The department provides excellence in theatre and language instruction through classroom and production events; serves as an outlet for our regional community to experience excellent theatre productions and strong linguistic support; and provides innovative approaches to promote life-long, creative ventures for our students after graduation. Students will be offered opportunities to study abroad; pursue research; increase their knowledge in languages through an array of cultural events (film, folklore, literature, mythology, theatre, TV); and, be prepared for language examinations for entrance into graduate school.

The study of languages and theatre opens the door to a cosmopolitan world and gives the student significant practical advantages for employment while magnifying humanistic insight which is necessary in today's world for successful living. The language major is designed to train students to communicate effectively with native speakers of the language studied; read and appreciate the cultural and historical significance of important works of native literature; and understand fundamental cultural characteristics of another part of the world. The theatre major is a liberal arts-based training program that prepares theatre practitioners for employment or graduate study in the entertainment fields, as well as other opportunities requiring strong oral and written communication skills, teamwork, and a goal-oriented approach to work.

Creativity, flexibility, and individual attention characterize its programs. The department's facilities include modern offices and classrooms; the Language and Culture Resource Center (a multimedia lab providing students with computer-assisted learning tools as well as e-mail and Internet access); a dance/acting studio and, two performance spaces (Robert E. Johnson Theatre with 344 seats and the Actor's Studio Theatre with 55 seats).

The department of Global Languages and Theatre Arts strongly recommends that all majors and minors study abroad. Murray State University offers programs in a number of countries. Through MSU signature study abroad events, the Kentucky Institute for International Studies (KIIS), The Cooperative Center for Study Abroad (CCSA), and other programs available to students, the department works with the Institute for International Studies on the MSU campus to fulfill student's goals in study abroad.

Students may participate in several organizations in the department including Alpha Mu Gamma (national honorary language society), Alpha Psi Omega (national honorary dramatic society), and Sock and Buskin (theatre student organization).

Placement

All students new to the language programs at Murray State are required to take a placement exam to determine at which level of their language they should begin (102, 201, 202, 301, etc.). This exam will be required of all students with prior language experience, including native speakers. The Placement Exam can be taken on-line by accessing the Department of Global Languages and Theatre Arts webpage.

If a student has previously acquired knowledge of the languages taught at MSU, a maximum of 12 college credits, up to and including the level of 301, may be awarded. The awarding of credit will be based on the applicant's success in any of the following: The Departmental Challenge Process; The CLEP Examination; or, The Advanced Placement (AP) Examination.

To enable theatre students to acquire the necessary skills, each theatre major is required to participate in no less than 12 faculty-directed productions prior to graduation. Enrollment in THD 106 as required by every theatre major and minor to track their participation.

Scholarships

Scholarships are available to qualified students who major in global languages or theatre. For additional information, contact the department chair.

CIP 13.1205

The Department of Modern Languages provides instruction in support of the M.A.Ed. in Secondary Teacher Leader with a concentration in French, German or Spanish. Prospective students should contact the graduate coordinator in the academic subject department and the College of Education and Human Services for details on advising and graduate program design.

Foreign Language Examination

Students who are required by their departments to demonstrate proficiency in a foreign language may satisfy the requirement in one of the following ways:

- by completion of two years of college-level study in one language with an average grade of C or better; or
- by earning an appropriate score on the CLEP exam. See www.collegeboard.com/testing and refer to CLEP.

The native language of a foreign student may be accepted to meet the graduate language requirements if recommended by the student's advisor and approved by the graduate coordinator of the student's college.

For those disciplines which permit the substitution of statistics, computer science, or a combination thereof for a foreign language, the requirement may be met by the satisfactory completion of two semesters of the permitted substitute courses with grades of C or better. These courses are in addition to the total number of hours required for the degree. A proficiency examination administered by the appropriate department may be accepted in lieu of the required course work.

Department of History course offerings support University Studies requirements, provide concentrations in American, European, and global history for a major or minor, and prepare students for secondary certification.

The department contributes substantially to the world civilizations and culture courses and offers electives, the American Experience and Modern Europe, which meet University Studies requirements in several categories. These University Studies courses encourage students to appreciate the diverse paths humans have taken to the present as well as their own distinctive cultural heritage.

Specialized instruction for undergraduate majors and minors in history is intended to develop knowledge of the past and the skills of critical inquiry necessary for careers in teaching, the professions, government and business. Many students are currently combining a major in history with a major in other fields. The department also serves as a home for the Religious Studies minor.

The Master of Arts in History provides excellent preparation for doctoral work in history, for law school, or for other professional and graduate education. The history M.A. is also excellent preparation for careers in government, public and private agencies concerned with history, and any career requiring research, analytical and writing skills. It also enables teachers to meet Rank II certification in Kentucky public schools.

Graduate Program

Graduate Coordinator - David Pizzo

The Master of Arts program in history offers advanced study to qualified students in American, European, and global history. The course of study emphasizes the development of a coherent view of the past, the effective communication of ideas, and familiarity with a variety of historical schools of interpretation.

The department has three offerings leading to the Master of Arts degree. The thesis track concentration is a general program of advanced study that requires a thesis; the two non-thesis tracks replace the thesis with additional training in the major/minor areas.

The department's principal graduate course offerings are in American and modern European history, complemented by course offerings in global history.

The history department awards a limited number of assistantships each academic year. Applications for assistantships should be made directly to the history graduate coordinator. Applications are due by April 1 for the forthcoming academic year.

Admission applications for the upcoming fall term should be received by June 1 of the same calendar year, and mid-academic year admissions should be received by October 15 for the following calendar year. The Department of History does not review any graduate applications until all materials—the graduate application, Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores, letters of recommendation, writing sample, and official transcript—have been received by the graduate coordinator. The department reserves the right to review transfer credit viability.

The graduate application and GRE scores should be sent to Graduate Admissions and Records, Murray State University, Sparks Hall, Murray, KY 42071. All other materials should be sent to Graduate Coordinator, Department of History, Murray State University, 6B Faculty Hall, Murray, KY 42071-3341.

Requirements for Admission

Applicants must meet the Murray State University requirements (see Graduate Admissions). For non-native speakers of English, a TOEFL score of 22 for each section of the iBT, or an IELTS score of 7.0 with no band lower than 6.5, or a previous degree earned from an accredited U.S. institution subject to departmental standards. Additional requirements are as follows.

Unconditional

- An undergraduate major or minor in history.
- GPA of 3.0 or better in history courses.
- GRE score of at least 900 (V+Q) or the equivalent on the new scoring system.
- 3-5 page (minimum) sample of historical writing.
- Two letters of recommendation that addresses candidate's ability to do graduate work in history.
- For non-native speakers of English, a TOEFL score of 22 for each section of the iBT, or an IELTS score of 7.0 with no band lower than 6.5 or a previous degree earned from an accredited U.S. institution subject to departmental approval.

Conditional

Students will have their skills in reading and writing assessed by the departmental graduate coordinator prior to enrollment in graduate courses. A student with a GRE score of less than 900 (V+Q), or the equivalent on the new scoring system, may be admitted conditionally to the history M.A. program, but the student must upon completing nine hours of graduate work, have a 3.0 grade point average.

Department of Music

504 Price Doyle Fine Arts Center
270-809-4288

Chair: Lucia Unrau. Faculty: Almquist, Black, Conklin, Crawford, D'Ambrosio, Dressler, Erickson, Fannin, Field, Gianforte, J. Hill, T. Hill, Johnson, Kane, Kupinski, Mitchell, M. Park, S. Park, Rea, Swisher, Unrau, Webster, Weimer.

The Department of Music at Murray State University is dedicated to maintaining a tradition of excellence in the programs it offers, the performances it presents, and the music professionals it graduates. The department seeks to enrich and engage the campus, community, and region through its performances and educational programs.

The department strives to provide educational opportunities that prepare students to make meaningful contributions in the world as performers, composers, teachers, scholars, and leaders in the music profession; to nurture and develop its students' musical and intellectual abilities; to expand the understanding and impact of the art of music by promoting performance, composition, and research; to build professional leadership and entrepreneurship skills in its music majors; to educate the university student population about music's intrinsic value as a part of the human experience and its central role in human culture by providing courses and performance opportunities for all MSU students; to be a musical resource for area children and adults, including teachers and other professionals; and to be a visible and active center for the arts, enriching the cultural life of the campus and the region.

Undergraduate degrees offered in the department are the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and the Bachelor of Music. The Bachelor of Music degree program offers tracks in composition, performance, and music education. The Bachelor of Science is offered in music and music business. Academic minors in music and in music theatre are also available.

In addition to admission to the University, prospective music major and minor students must be admitted to Department of Music academic programs through a qualifying audition in their performance area. Contact the Department of Music for further information.

Note: Performance proficiencies in applied music must be passed after the second and fourth semesters of study to remain in the program and to progress to the next level of applied lessons. A grade of C or better is required for graduation in all music courses, including ensembles, specifically required by the music degree being pursued.

The degree programs reflect a core of basic musicianship and general study needs common to all musicians. The attendant specialized courses help students develop and refine competencies toward careers in teaching and performing as well as other specific interests.

The general college student (non-music major) is encouraged to continue or develop music interests and involvements through participation in performance groups, attendance at performances, and by taking a wide variety of courses open to the non-major.

Music facilities in the Price Doyle Fine Arts Center include recital halls, rehearsal halls, computer-lab and digital synthesis, keyboard laboratories, practice rooms, repair facilities, recording studio, specially equipped classrooms, and storage facilities.

Accreditation

The Department of Music has been an institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music since 1936. Degree programs are arranged in conformity with the requirements of the National Association of Schools of Music.

Scholarships

Grants-in-aid and scholarships are available to the music major and, in some cases, for non-major music participation.

Graduate Degree

The Department of Music offers the Master of Music Education (M.M.E.) degree. The M.M.E. degree seeks to serve the region's teachers with opportunities to continue their professional growth, refining and extending their skills and knowledge beyond the baccalaureate level. The program provides leadership, enrichment, and resources for the region's music professionals in an atmosphere of musical activity.

government@murraystate.edu

Chair: Choong-Nam Kang. Faculty: Alkhatib, Clinger, Foote, Hendley, McCutchen, Morelock, Morrison, Nititham, Oliver, Polizzi, Rose, Rosenberger, Seib, Yang.

Curricula of the department afford enough specialization and career education to prepare students for enrollment in professional and graduate programs, or for participation in various occupational classifications immediately upon graduation. Students completing baccalaureate programs in the department will be granted either the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degree. Major programs are offered in political science, international studies, and sociology. Minor programs are offered in political science, international studies, legal studies, social science, and sociology.

The Master of Public Administration program provides education and training for professional careers in government agencies and non-profit organizations. Graduates of the program are now successfully pursuing careers as city managers, public works directors, regulatory officials, criminal justice professionals, public human resource administrators, and military and diplomatic officers, as well as other professions. Classes are offered at a variety of locations and through a variety of formats. Some courses are offered on-line as well as through an interactive television (ITV) format that reaches the MSU campuses in Paducah, Henderson, Madisonville, Fort Campbell, and Hopkinsville.

The Department of Political Science and Sociology provides several avenues to professional and academic competence. Besides specific courses preparing students for a broad variety of occupational choices in international studies, politics and public administration, and legal studies, University Studies classes furnish an opportunity for students to become more familiar with the international environment and the American political system. The department functions in close harmony with other academic units across campus and draws from other programs to complement its offerings. Pre-law advising and law school placement services are coordinated by the legal studies component within the department.

Graduates of the programs must demonstrate oral and written communication skills which follow the conventions of standard English usage and meet the criteria for clarity, organization, development and thoughtfulness; must have acquired basic understanding of research methodologies, i.e. the use of statistical analysis and computer applications; and should have acquired an understanding of the basic concepts, systems and problems of their discipline in particular and liberal arts education in general.

Sociology

The sociology program is oriented toward increasing students' understanding of human society, the groups and institutions of which it is composed, and its impact on human beings. Sociology provides many distinctive ways of looking at the world so as to generate new ideas and assess the old. Too, sociology offers a range of research techniques which can be applied in more specific areas whether one's concern is with crime, provision of health care, or problems of poverty and social inequality. Students find employment in a variety of fields including case and group work, probation and parole, or human rights advocacy, to name a few. The sociology program will provide students with a solid foundation for their chosen careers upon graduation or for more specialized education in such fields as law, public health, or a number of other professional fields.

Department of Psychology

Chair - Paula Waddill
212A Wells Hall
270-809-2851

Chair: Paula Waddill. Faculty: Anderson, Bordieri, Brown, Cushen, Hackathorn, Joyce, Karlsson, Liljequist, Long, Rife, Wann.

The Department of Psychology provides a liberal arts oriented program of studies that covers the many topics of the broad discipline of psychology and leads to either the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degree. The curriculum is designed to enable students who major in psychology to (1) become knowledgeable about the basic principles of behavior, (2) acquire research and problem-solving skills, and (3) learn how psychological knowledge can be applied in service settings to promote human welfare. The department also provides a flexible minor which can be combined with majors in other fields to provide students in those fields an appropriate background in psychology.

Completion of the psychology major prepares the student for a variety of activities in occupations in which an understanding of human behavior is important (e.g. public relations, personnel management, social welfare, mental health and child care). Professional careers in psychology normally require graduate training and the undergraduate major constitutes excellent preparation for entry into graduate programs in psychology. This major also serves as a good background for entry into graduate study in a number of other professional fields which have a strong psychological dimension or require a knowledge of behavioral science research techniques.

The Department of Psychology offers either the Master of Arts or the Master of Science degree in general experimental psychology and in clinical psychology. A joint objective of both graduate programs is to provide graduate study whereby the student can seek career opportunities in governmental agencies, teach in two-year colleges, or pursue doctoral level study in psychology or related fields. An additional objective of the program in clinical psychology is to train the student in the areas of psychodiagnostics and psychotherapeutic techniques where these skills can be utilized in a community setting to include comprehensive care centers, schools, and mental hospitals.

The department's physical facilities include laboratories which are equipped for research and a computer laboratory. In addition, the Psychological Center, operated by the department, serves as a training facility for graduate students and as a mental health resource for referrals from university and community agencies. The center, located in Wells Hall, has facilities for psychological testing and therapy.

Graduate Programs

The curriculum in the psychology graduate program has been developed to provide exposure to the breadth of psychology as well as intensive study of those areas which are currently of greatest concern in the field. In addition, work in statistics and research design is provided and participation in research is encouraged. The program in clinical psychology is approved by the Master's in Psychology and Counseling Accreditation Council (MPCAC).

Psychology graduate courses are offered on a regularly scheduled rotation. Assuming no undergraduate course deficiencies, it is possible for a student to complete either degree program in two years.

Requirements for Admission

The deadline for submission of applications is March 15. Early submission of applications is encouraged, as admission is competitive. Applications arriving after March 15 will be considered only if space is available. Applicants must meet the Murray State University requirements (see Graduate Admissions). Additional requirements for unconditional and conditional admission are as follows.

For non-native speakers of English, a minimum IELTS score of 6.5, paper-based TOEFL score of 550, an internet-based TOEFL score of 88, or a previous degree earned from an accredited United States institution is required.

Unconditional

- A minimum of 15 undergraduate credit hours in psychology, including courses in research methods and statistics or their equivalent.
- A grade point average of 3.0 or higher overall and in psychology courses.
- Official score report of the Graduate Record Examination.
- Three letters of recommendation.
- A written statement of purpose for entering graduate work in psychology.
- For the general experimental program, a statement of personal research interests.

Conditional

The Department of Psychology does not normally admit students who fail to meet the university requirements for unconditional admission (see Graduate Admissions). However, students who otherwise meet those standards but lack the prerequisite undergraduate courses in psychology are encouraged to enroll in those classes as irregular or unclassified students. Such students should contact the department chairperson.

In some cases, students lacking only one or two undergraduate prerequisite courses may be admitted with the understanding that they must complete those undergraduate courses along with their graduate courses.

Note: Admission into Department of Psychology graduate programs obligates students to adhere to the ethical standards of the American Psychological Association as well as the academic conduct principles and the interpersonal skills policies of the department. Any violation of these is cause for dismissal from the program. In the case of the clinical program, the department reserves the right to deny admission to or discontinue the training of any student who in the judgment of the department's graduate training committee would not be able to function competently in the profession of clinical psychology.

Additional Degree Requirements

The Department of Psychology has set the following additional requirements for academic performance by students in its graduate programs; these requirements are separate from the minimum university regulations for scholastic probation governing graduate students.

A graduate student will be placed on probation with his/her graduate program if he/she has completed nine or more semester hours of graduate coursework with a grade point average of less than 3.00 or he/she has earned a grade of C or lower in a required graduate course.

A graduate student who is placed on probation in his/her graduate program must show the following improvements during the fall or spring term immediately following the term in which the student was placed on program probation: he/she must earn grades of B or above in all graduate courses and must improve his/her cumulative grade point average. A graduate student who has been placed on probation in his/her graduate program and who fails to achieve both of these criteria for improvement will be dismissed from the program. A graduate student who has been dismissed from his/her program for failure to meet these requirements may appeal in writing to the Psychology Department Graduate Training Committee for readmission.

Dual Degree Program

Dual master's degrees in General Experimental Psychology (GEP-SY) and Nonprofit Leadership Studies (NLS) may be earned through a five-semester or six-semester sequence of courses leading to two degrees – a master's degree in GEP-SY and a master's degree in NLS.
Students are required to comply with the specific policies set up by the dual master's degree in which they have been admitted.

Application and Admission

Applicants must hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution of higher education and must declare at the time of application the intention to pursue a dual degree in GEP-SY/NLS.

Applicants must be accepted for unconditional admission by the GEP-
SY program as well as accepted for admission by the NLS program. The normal criteria for admission to each program apply. If a student only meets the admission criteria of one program, the applicant must apply separately to that single degree program and is then required to meet the graduation requirements of that program.

Academic standing

Grade point averages (GPA) in the two programs are computed separately. To continue with the dual GEP-SY/NLS degrees, students must meet the academic standards in each program. Students failing in one program but meeting academic standards in the other may reapply for admission to the degree program in which the student is able to meet the academic standards and may transfer in completed course work that is applicable to that program.

Course Progression

Students are required to work consistently toward both degrees.
Students will be assigned one advisor from each program to support students' successful course progression, and students are expected to meet with each advisor at least once each semester to ensure both programs are being completed in a timely manner.

Graduation Criteria

Students in the GEP-SY/NLS program must complete the thesis required for the GEP-SY program. The thesis committee will be chaired by a member of the graduate faculty from the psychology department. One member of the thesis committee will be from the graduate faculty of the NLS program. The choice of thesis topic should be a collaborative decision between the student and the thesis committee and should be a topic relevant to both psychology and nonprofit leadership. Successful completion of the GEP-SY thesis will fulfill the comprehensive examination requirement for the NLS degree. The degrees in GEP-SY and NLS must be awarded at the same time.
