

"The ORCA Office and the fellowship I received from the allowed me to take my Honors Thesis to a level I never thought was possible. Not only did I receive generous funding for my research I was also able to use some of the funding to travel and present my research at Posters at the Capitol, Kentucky Honors Roundtable, Southern Regional Honors Council, and the National Association of Equine Affiliated Academics. These conferences gave me great life experience but also some of my most beloved memories from my years at Murray State. Every student should at least look into doing some form of undergraduate research. It opens so many doors and with the support of the ORCA Office is a very enjoyable experience."
